Faubus Rapped for Writing to Welfare Clients

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval Faubus last week sent some 60,000 letters to the state's welfare clients recounting what he said his administration had done for them and telling them he hoped welfare checks could be increased.

The governor said he was paying for the letters and the postage, that no state help was used and that he didn't consider his message political.

He was disputed yesterday on this latter point by pro-segregationist leader James D. Johnson of Crossett, who also declared that the governor had distorted facts concerning the welfare situation.

Johnson, who a few hours earlier had confirmed that he might become a candidate for governor in opposition to Faubus' expected try for a second term, asked Atty. Gen. Tom Gentry, definitely a Faubus political foe, to investigate. A 1953 state law forbids using welfare lists for "commercial or political" purposes.

Chief Asst. Atty. Gen. Jim Loan said today his office had received Johnson's letter. Atty. Gen. Tom Gentry was out of the city and could not be reached for comment.

Sloan said he would "study the letter" but that the attorney general's office had received "no letter" that the governor might have circulated.

Johnson had sniped at Faubus previously on the latter's racial segregation attitudes. His admission that he might become a candidate for governor was not surprising even though he had said earlier his pro-segregation campaign was devoid of political motives.

In the one-page letter, printed on official stationery, Faubus said things that "have been done to help the old and needy" and added that "we hope to set up a program for the payment of your doctor bills and medicine and to provide hospital care when you are ill."

Any fundamental change in the welfare law would have to be approved by the Legislature, whose next regular session is in January after this summer's Democratic primaries and the November general election.

Faubus yesterday said his entire job of printing the letters, which were signed with a facsimile of his signature and of mailing them was handled by a Little Rock firm.

He said he was bearing the entire expense — around $1,800 for postage with the printing bill yet to come—but in reply to a question conceded that he might get some financial assistance from friends.

He said he didn't see anything political in the letters.

He said the biggest volume of mail he received concerned welfare matters and he thought the method he took was the best way to answer the questions asked.

In his letter to Gentry, who defeated him for attorney general two years ago, Johnson said that "I believe you will be justified in calling attention of each prosecuting attorney in whose district the letter was circulated to the statutes applicable to the situation."

Note Payment Ruling Upheld by Court

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—In a split decision, the Arkansas Supreme Court today upheld a ruling that a note for $3,000, payable to Lynn Farr Music Co., for payment of two past due notes, was for $2,296.83 and one was for $984.72.

Lynn Farr successfully contended that the notes were executed for three automatic record phonographs that were defective and that Rock-Ola failed to carry out an oral agreement to give Lynn Farr and exclusive dealership.

The Supreme Court held that Rock-Ola failed to "make objections in the trial court adequate to raise, on appeal the question of the sufficiency of the evidence."

Also, the court said, "The testimony clearly supports" Lynn Farr's defense on grounds of fraud in that his purchase of the merchandise was a part of an oral agreement.

In a dissenting opinion, Associate Justice J. Seaborn Holt said Lynn Farr "knew of the alleged defects in the machines a few days after he first put them on location."

It was 11 months before Farr complained, Holt said. Holt said he believed Farr failed to rescind the sales "with full knowledge of any alleged defects or alleged fraud."

Therefore, he said, "This court should not permit him to escape his just liability for the notes sued on."

High Court Reverses School Case

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Because of court instructions on the legal aspects of an act of God Manila School District's suit against a contractor today was sent by the Arkansas Supreme Court back to Mississippi Circuit Court.

The Supreme Court back to Mississippi Circuit Court.

The Supreme Court reversed and remanded the lower court's decision in favor of Earl Sanders, doing business as Delta Sheet Metal & Roofing Co.

The northeast Arkansas school district sued Sanders for damages resulting from a rainstorm that dumped water on the floor of the school gymnasium. The district contended that through negligence Sanders had left the floor unprotected while installing a roof. He had removed sections of the old roof.

Mississippi Circuit Court erred, the Supreme Court said, in failing to instruct the jury properly.

The jury was instructed to find for Sanders if it was determined that an act of God — the rainstorm — caused the damage, and not the negligence of Sanders. An act of God was described by the court as "a violence disturbance of the elements . . . that is 'the sole cause of the loss or damage.'"

The school district asked the court to instruct the jury to find its verdict for the district "unless you find . . . Sanders . . . did not contribute to or corroborate with an alleged rainstorm in causing the damages."

In refusing this instruction, said the Supreme Court, the circuit court erred.

Four Arrested in Altercation Here

An altercation yesterday at the home of Rosie Lee Thompson resulted in the arrest of four persons, City Police announced.

Officers said that in a fight Ruby Bishop Johnson was cut by Rosie Lee Thompson. She suffered severe lacerations and lost much blood. Edgar Williams and Jessie Thompson were also involved and both were charged with assault and battery.

The Thompson woman will be charged with assault with a deadly weapon. All the persons involved were Negroes.

AWOL Soldiers Are Picked Up Here

Two AWOL soldiers were arrested by State Officers Ward and Downing last night after driving off without paying for gasoline at Youngblood's Station here.

They were listed as Harry L. Getz Jr., 21, and Kent Eric Stockley, 18. Both were involved in court martial at El Paso, Texas. State officers said both the men were AWOL and one was escaped from army brig. A car used by the pair was stolen, the officers said. They were turned over to the Sheriff's office.

Israel Charges Syrians Fired on Fishing Boat

JERUSALEM (Israeli Sector), (UP)—Israel charged today that Syrians opened fire on an Israeli fishing boat on the Sea of Galilee, the scene earlier this year of a major clash between Israeli and Syrian troops.

The charges, made by Israeli military spokesman Col. Nehemia Brosh, came as U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold arrived in the Syrian capital of Damascus on his visit to Mideast capitals in search of permanent peace.

Brosh said the Syrians opened fire Sunday on an Israeli boat but that no casualties were suffered.

Reliable Israeli sources said Israel had informed Hammarskjold of Israel's willingness to make concessions to the Syrians—to refrain from fishing close to the northeastern shores of the sea and to permit Syrian farmers to use waters of the sea. The sea is completely within Israel territory and the Syrian border is 10 yards from the lake shore.

Teenagers in Battle Over Hangout

MEMPHIS (AP)—Juvenile court today opened an investigation of a teen-age gang fight over "possession" of a new drive-in restaurant.

Assistant Police Chief U. T. Bartholomew said the fight was broken up by officers right after it started. Twenty-four youngsters, including four girls, were charged with disorderly conduct.

All of the teen-agers, many from residential areas where homes are in the $20,000-and-up class, were released on bond.

Bartholomew said the "gang fight" report came shortly after midnight yesterday and six squad cars were dispatched to the street corner.

"Some blows were evidently passed," he said, "but we got there just in time to break up a general fight."

Officers said quite a few teen-agers got away in their cars.

W. C. Moxley, a juvenile court officer, said the main trouble seems to be that youngsters who live in White Station feel that teen-agers from suburban Germantown are "infringing on their rights" by patronizing the drive-in.

"There were children from some excellent homes among those taken into custody," he said, "it seems the parents just didn't know where their children were at that time of night."

Bartholomew said police knew the fight was supposed to be brewing. A squad car was stationed at the drive-in Saturday night. Carloads of teen-agers arriving were ordered to head elsewhere.

This apparently failed to block the showdown. The site was merely shifted to a street corner some blocks away.

State Garden Club Meet in Hot Springs

Programs for the twenty-fifth annual convention of the Arkansas Federation of Garden Clubs to be held in Hot Springs at the Arlington Hotel May 2, 3, and 4, have been received by the presidents of all clubs in the state.

Mrs. Billy G. Wilson, President of the state organization, said in an interview at Hot Springs this week: "We believe we have planned a stimulating and interesting program — one in which every phase of gardening and garden club work is covered."

The silver anniversary theme will be used throughout and the members of the Hot Springs Council, who are our hostesses for the meeting, have found many beautiful ways to interpret the motif.

We cannot call any one portion of the convention the highlight, for each event in the three day meeting would be worth a trip to Hot Springs. I hope that every garden club member in the state will be able to attend."

Wednesday, May 2, there will be a reception at the home of Mrs. Tom Stough, first vice-president of the Hot Springs Council honoring State Officers and State Chairmen.

Thursday morning at the opening session of the convention, Mayor Floyd Housley will greet the visitors. After the business session, five work-shop luncheons will be held, each presided over by a District Director. The subjects to be discussed at these luncheons have been grouped so that each person may choose the field she enjoys most.

Thursday afternoon Mrs. Marie Johnson Fort will give a lecture-demonstration. Mrs. Fort is a nationally recognized authority on arrangements, and her book "Flower Arrangements for all Occasions" is one of the outstanding and most popular ones in its field. She has lectured in New York City, and throughout the United States. The Hot Springs Council feels it is indeed fortunate to have been able to arrange her appearance at this meeting.

The Silver Anniversary Banquet will be held in the Crystal Ballroom of the convention hotel on Thursday evening. A history of the Arkansas Federation will be presented in pantomime form, with sixteen past state presidents taking part. The distinguished guest speaker will be Mrs. Walter Colquitt of Shreveport, La., who in 1934 was awarded a trip to European Gardens as the woman who had done most for horticulture in the United States. Mrs. Colquitt will speak about her tour, and will show color slides of the most interesting of the gardens she visited.

Friday, May 4, there will be breakfast meetings for the council and club presidents, and for members of the round-robins, followed by the last business session. The convention will be concluded by the Awards Luncheon which features an elaborate style show by Clyde's of Hot Springs, followed by the presentation of awards.

Tours of the National Park, surprise parties, and drawings for prizes throughout the day and evening are also included in the plans.

Many from Hope are planning to attend this meeting.

The farm tour was conducted under the direction of Art Mhoon and H. H. Honora of the Corn Belt Hatchery organization.

Fertilizer Important to Cotton

County Agent Oliver L. Adams says where cotton is fertilized with solid fertilizers, more efficient utilization of the nutrients is usually obtained by banding than by broadcasting. This is especially true where soil fertility is very low.

The ideal placement is two to three inches to the side and about three inches below the planted seed. This placement affords a "starter" effect and places the fertilizer in a position where moisture is usually in good supply in the early stages of dry periods.

The next best placement is in a band under the row so that the fertilizer is four to six inches under the planted seed. This method is more practical on many farms than side banding because of the application equipment available.

Banding generally results in less weed problem than broadcasting especially under wet conditions. Less phosphate fixation in acid soils is another advantage of banding.

Pre-plant anhydrous ammonia may be placed either in the old middles before bedding, deep in the bed after bedding, or deep in the soil near the seed drill for flat planting.

Khrushchev in Boast About New Missile

By HENRY SHAPIRO
BIRMINGHAM, England (UP)—Soviet Communist Party Boss Nikita Khrushchev boasted today that the Soviet Union is working on a guided missile with an H-bomb warhead "which can land anywhere in the world."

"Great stress is being laid on guided missiles," he told an audience of British businessmen and civic leaders in a speech during a stopover here on the tour he and Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin are making of this country.

"We can compete there, too. I am quite sure that we shall have the guided missile with a hydrogen bomb warhead which can land anywhere in the world."

The race for production of long range, inter-continental missiles is one of the most critical in the world armaments race, with the United States and Britain also seeking to develop such weapons.

Khrushchev's statement seemed to indicate that the Soviet Union believes it may be close to success.

The boast by Khrushchev came after he and Bulganin flew to Birmingham from London. They were met by another series of anti-Communist demonstrations.

When they arrived, the Russian leaders were given another stinging razzing and rendition of "Poor Old Joe" to the tune of Stephen Foster's "Old Black Joe" — a reference to the Soviet Union's new policy of discrediting the late Josef Stalin.

Khrushchev's speech was in the main a demand for strategic trade between the Soviet and the West. He was contemptuous of the Western trade embargo now in effect, demanding to know if "you really think you are ahead of us" in arms progress.

"If you want to discuss the hydrogen bomb," he said, "it remains a fact that we were the first to explode the H-bomb from an airplane. The Americans are only intending to do so because their previous explosion was not that of a hydrogen bomb but of a hydrogen installation."

This remark followed a hint in today's official Communist newspaper Pravda in Moscow that East-West agreement on disarmament may depend on British willingness to expand trade with Russia, including relaxation of the ban on exports of strategic goods.

"You must think we are behind you in the production of airplanes," Khrushchev added. "But it would be a mistake to say so."

Arab Peninsula Next Cold War Battleground?

By WILTON WYNN

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—The Arabian Peninsula "Land of the Tollgate Sultans" looks like the next major battleground in the cold war between the Arabs and the British.

Signing of a new military alliance Saturday by Egypt, Saudi Arabia and the little desert kingdom of Yemen promises trouble in the sandy stretch of land around the rim of the Arabian Peninsula. That strip forms the last stronghold of direct British control in the entire Arab world.

Around this perimeter are numerous sheikhs and sultans who in theory are sovereign as Queen Elizabeth II but these "independence" depends almost entirely on treaties of protection with Britain.

Their desert frontiers rarely are well defined and the British-backed rulers recently have come increasingly into conflict with their larger neighbors to the north — Saudi Arabia and Yemen.

Yemen's conflict with Britain centers mainly around the Aden protectorates—30 "independent" states jammed into the 100-mile-width of the peninsula's southwest corner between Yemen's southern frontier and the Indian Ocean.

Some of these sultans and sheikhs live on as little as $10 a month, derived largely from the tolls they charge on camel caravans plodding through their roadless domains. The inevitable tollgate, a dirty mud-butt village and possibly a Beau Geste type, fortress with mud walls often constitute the entire populated area of the sultan's domain.

Pennsylvania Test Between Ike, Adlai

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The focal point of interest in tomorrow's Pennsylvania primary election will be a test of the relative strength of President Eisenhower and Adlai Stevenson.

Eisenhower is, in effect, opposed on the GOP side of the ballot. Sen. William F. Knowland of California also is listed but only because he was unable to withdraw his name in time when Eisenhower announced his candidacy.

Stevenson's name will stand alone on the Democratic ballot nomination, Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee, did not seek to have his name entered formally here and made no serious bid for write-in votes.

Statistically, this is the prior basis for comparison of the Eisenhower and Stevenson vote tomorrow.

In the 1952 general election, Eisenhower polled 2,415,789 to 2,146,260 for Stevenson. The state administration then was Republican.

This year there is Democratic governor for the first time since 1934.

Dulles Asks Unity in Face Soviet 'Soft Talk'

NEW YORK (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles appealed today for positive unity in the free world in the face of Soviet soft talk, and called for development of the North Atlantic Treaty (NATO) alliance into something more than a military pact.

"The time has come to advance NATO from its last phase to the totality of its meaning," Dulles said in a speech prepared for the Associated Press annual luncheon.

Dulles did not spell out in his prepared text just what he had in mind as to NATO.

But he talked about "more economic development" and "more independence" in discussing the attempts by Western nations to improve the world's lot.

Aides suggested in Washington that Dulles' speech might be comparable to one made by the then Secretary, George C. Marshall, at Harvard University June 5, 1947. Marshall at that time proposed a European self-help program, with United States backing, that eventually became known as the Marshall plan.

Dulles said in developing the main theme of his address that the North Atlantic Treaty was "a necessary alliance" to draw the free world together against the threat of Soviet militarism.

"But the time has come, I believe, to consider whether its organization does not need to be further developed, if it is adequately to serve the needs of this coming generation."

"If that be the common desire of the NATO member nations, the United will join eagerly in exploring the possibilities which now beckon us forward."

Dulles went on to say that Soviet rulers "in their new garb have somewhat greater acceptability and therefore more chance for mischief."

"It would be folly for the first time to consider that they can stay lower their guard and fall apart," he said.

Suggests Way for Soil Bank Action

By EDWIN S. HARRISON

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Ellender (D-La.) said today President Eisenhower can get quick congressional action on another soil bank bill "if he agrees to a few additional provisions."

Ellender, chairman of the Senate Agriculture Committee, said in an interview that these would include:

1. A setting under cotton acreage allotments at about the level of this year, 17.4 million acres, plus special protection for small cotton farmers.

2. An increase to $1 million acres in the basic commercial corn allotment eligible for price supports.

3. Some compromise system of supports for oats, barley, rye and grain sorghums, the chief livestock feed grains, in addition to corn.

Supporters Feel Adali to Win California

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Adlai Stevenson's backers apparently believe that if he can win the California primary he will ride into the Democratic presidential nomination convention with more first-ballot votes than anyone else.

Some of his friends indicated today that while they are not backing their efforts, they are not counting heavily on the May 18 Oregon and May 29 Florida primaries.

In Florida, the Stevenson forces evenly split with Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee in any division of the state's 28-vote delegation. They contend they are fighting an uphill battle in a write-on contest with Kefauver for Oregon's 16 votes.

But in California, where the 68-vote delegation goes as a unit to the winner of the June 5 primary, they are prepared for a desperate battle.

Since it is the last contested primary before the convention opens in Chicago Aug. 13, it may have strong psychological effect on delegates chosen in conventions in other states.

With 68 votes from California, Stevenson's other first-ballot strength would come largely from Illinois, with 64 votes, Pennsylvania with 74, New Jersey with 36 and Massachusetts with 38. He has scattered delegate strength already enlisted in some other states. That would seem to assure him 300 or more. Nomination requires 888 2/3 votes.

Even if Kefauver should win all of Florida's 28 votes and Oregon's 16, he seems unlikely to reach 300 on the first ballot. His present strength lies primarily in Minnesota with 26 votes, New Hampshire with 28, Wisconsin with 28 and Tennessee's 32.

A California victory, however, could make Kefauver the first-ballot leader if many states cast "favorite son" votes.

Melting Snow Threatens Three States

By United Press

Tons of melting snow sent flood crests rolling down icy rivers in three states today.

An April freeze across the nation's north slowed up the big thaw. But lowland residents were warned to be ready to move out in parts of Idaho, North Dakota, and Minnesota.

The Idaho flood threat appeared to be the worst. Warm weather and an unusually big runoff from the snow-covered mountains sent both the Kootenai river in the north and the Blackfoot river in the south close to flood stage.

Sandbagging was underway along the banks of both rivers and a federal disaster specialist, Herbert C. Mosher, hurried from California to help supervise the precautions.

To the east, the Red river and the Red Lake river were both over their banks in low areas of North Dakota and Minnesota.

The Red Lake river flood crest bore down on Crookston, Minn., and the Red river crest was aimed at Grand Forks, N.D. Several families near Park river and Grafton in North Dakota were forced from their homes.

Dynamite blasted ice jams on the Red Lake river to keep the flood waters from backing up. Meanwhile, officials anxiously watched the Red river to see what will happen when tributary waters hit the main stream.

The cold which slowed down the flood waters crept across the central plains and eastward through the middle Mississippi Valley and the Ohio Valley today.

Snow flurries whirled down on baseball crowds in Chicago yesterday and the temperature dropped to a wintry 23 degrees at Houghton, Mich., today. Other low temperatures included 30 at Madison, Wis., and Fort Wayne, Ind., 31 at Springfield, Ill., and 44 at Boston, Mass.

So former Sergeant Keating had refused to come as a guest and offered to come as a houseman, remarking that his wife was an excellent cook. The result was that the Keatings had a snug berth in their old age and the Cushings had remarkably efficient and devoted service.

11-Year-Old Shoots Entire Family of 3

MANSFIELD, Conn. (AP)—An 11-year-old boy, aiming awkwardly because of poor eyesight, shot to death his entire family—mother, father and older brother.

He told police they picked on him and he feared he would be sent to reform school.

Fifth-grader Robert Curgenven said he killed the three late Saturday afternoon at the family's rural home here, 30 miles east of Hartford. He slept in the farmhouse that night, then reported the killings to a neighbor Sunday morning.

One night last week his father spanked him because he wouldn't put out his bedroom light and go to sleep Robert said.

After telling his story to police yesterday, Robert was committed to the state hospital at Norwich for a 30-day mental examination.

Robert is built stockily but he has poor sight in his right eye and wears glasses. He said he had to sight the rifle with his left eye.

He told State Police Lt. Harry Taylor he reloaded the .22 caliber rifle after every shot, carrying spare bullets between his teeth.

First he killed his brother, Richard Jr. He walked into the barn where Richard was milking a cow about 5:30 p.m.

"I'm going to shoot you," he told Richard. But he said Richard and paid him no mind and snapped: "Get out of here."

When Richard resumed milking, Robert fired a shot that caught the brother in the hand. The brother flung a milking can at him and Robert fired again—hitting him in the stomach.

Robert backed out the barn door and Richard stumbled after him. Against Robert fired and again he hit him in the stomach. The brother crumpled to the ground and Robert fired the last time at his brother—a shot into the head.

Reloading, Robert went to the farmhouse where he saw his mother, Beatrice, 41, through a bedroom window. He said that when she saw him aiming the rifle she shouted something that sounded like "hey." Robert shot her dead with one shot, police said—

Robert said he slammed another round into the rifle chamber, and his father, Richard, 42, ran out of the house toward him. "His Dad," Robert said—and fired a shot that hit in the abdomen. Although wounded, the father shouted to him:

"Give me that rifle."

Robert said he loaded once more—the last time, for the next shot caught his father in the head, and he fell to the ground dead.

Taylor quoted Robert as saying he covered the bodies with blankets and went into the house. He ate something and went to bed about 9 p.m., but he said he didn't sleep very well. He got up at 9 a.m. Sunday.

It wasn't until 11 a.m. that he went to the home of a neighbor, John E. Powers, a placement officer at the University of Connecticut.

Boost Your Friend's Morale Wrong Approach to Religion Tell Your Parents!

Dear Dorothy Dix: We're a quartet of girls who have been friends for a long time. Three of us have no popularity troubles, but the fourth needs help, and we're writing for it. She hasn't matured as fast as the rest of us, is short and has a complex about it, doesn't know how to do her hair, wears the wrong colors, and becomes very angry when anyone tries to help her. She's a bright girl, and could easily be as popular as the rest of us if she'd only give herself a chance. Her mother resents criticism, too, so she's no help to her daughter.

JUST PALS
Dear Pals: Sometimes it's difficult to look down from a vantage point of self-confidence and understand people who lack assurance. You may be offering advice in a patronizing manner without realizing it. This would add to the resentment your friend already feels.

Instead of stressing her wrong hairdos; let's all try new ones. suggest improvements for all of you? Get a book on hair styles and brightly say, "My, what pretty hairdos; let's all try new ones." An afternoon spent in redoing each other will result in a painless improvement in your friend. The same scheme can supply to other weak points.

There is a multitude of books on teenage self-improvement — make-up, what to wear, how to act basic etiquette, entertaining and acquiring poise. Ask for them at your school or public library, or write me for their names, mentioning the TEEN-AGE GUIDANCE BOOK LIST. Be sure to enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Maxwell Captures Hot Springs Open

By ADREN COOPER
HOT SPRINGS (AP)—Billy Maxwell, who was a boy wonder as an amateur, played like an old pro yesterday in winning the $15,000 Hot Springs Open golf tournament—his biggest triumph so far.

The 28-year-old Maxwell has been a "promising youngster" for several years on the pro circuit, and he "arrived" yesterday when he birdied the final hole for a 72-hole total of 272 and a one-stroke victory over Ernie Vossler of Fort Worth, Tex., and George Beyer of Cincinnati, Ohio.

Maxwell, from Odessa, Tex., was a star among a group of stars as a collegian when he played for North Texas State College. He was a member of the national team in 1954, and he was named "College Player of the Year" in 1955.

Maxwell's victory was a surprise to many, as he had never won a professional tournament before. He had finished runner-up in the 1955 PGA Championship and the 1955 U.S. Open.

Maxwell's performance in the Hot Springs Open was a testament to his skill and determination. He played a steady game throughout the tournament, never allowing his opponents to get too far ahead of him.

Maxwell's victory was a significant achievement for him, as it marked his first professional win. It also solidified his reputation as one of the top players in the world.

Miss Berg Wins First Tourney

DALLAS (AP)—Patty Berg, the sturdy veteran from St. Andrews, Ill., had her first tournament victory of the year and was leading the money winners as the women's golf tour moved on to Spartanburg, S. C., today.

Miss Berg won a playoff over Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg and Marlene Bauer Hagee of Asheville, N. C., yesterday to take down first money of $1,350 in the $7,500 Dallas Women's Open. They tied over the 72-hole route with 291.

The next tournament is the Peach Blossom Open at Spartanburg and Miss Berg will step to the teams leading money winner of the year with slightly more than $6,000. She replaced Louise Suggs of Sea Island, Ga., in the win column.

Miss Rawls and Mrs. Hagee each won $855. Winding up in a tie for fourth with Mickey Wright of San Diego, Calif., was Miss Suggs.

Eight Records Broken in Kansas Relays

LAWRENCE, Kas. (AP)—Eight meet or stadium records—nine if you include a special high school event—were bettered and another tied in the 31st Kansas Relays, but the big attraction was the world's two greatest shotput men, Parry O'Brien and Bill Nieder.

More than 3,500 turned out early Saturday morning to watch O'Brien, of Southern California and Travis (Calif) Air Force Base fame, and Kansas' Nieder begin their preliminary throws in the shot. O'Brien, whose official world record is 80 feet 10 inches, had the best put—60-2.

Nieder, however, was credited with a new KU Relays record of 59-7. The event was a closed affair, O'Brien participating as an added attraction. The two great athletes, only men who have ever beaten 60 feet, will meet again at the Drake Relays this weekend.

While the host Kansas Jayhawks duplicated their Texas Relays feat of winning all three weight events—shot, distance and javelin—six different university class and four college division baton teams won titles.

Texas' university class 440-yard relays team ran one-tenth of a second under the recognized world record of 40.2 seconds set by Texas last year.

Texas also was awarded the two mile relay title when Iowa was disqualified after finishing first in what would have been a record of 7:40.5.

Oklahoma A&M won the mile relay in 3:12 with Olympic candidate J. M. Mashburn in the last leg.

Philander-Smith of Little Rock was a double winner in the college class, taking the spring medicine and the 100-yard dash.

The relay team of Nick, Purdie, Tittle and Hollis won 4th in the 440, took third in the 880 and 4th in the mile relay. In the mile medley Fowler, Lingo, Rowe and Ruggles ran 5th.

Coach Leon Turpin said the boys would meet Prescott here Tuesday afternoon starting at 3:15.

21 Lettermen as Hogs Start Workouts

Jack Mitchell today greeted 21 returning lettermen as spring football practice opened at the University of Arkansas.

Mitchell, in his sophomore year at Arkansas, said he hopes "to get into the heart of our practice in the shortest time possible."

He said he believes the squad has kept in pretty good shape and that verve will probably not be a problem.

The biggest problem facing the young coach, who originated the pigeon-toed T attack, is rebuilding after the loss of eleven lettermen from last year's squad.

Starters lost include guards Wayland Roberts and Bobby Gil-land, tackle Bill Fuller, end Billy Lyons, halfbacks Preston Carpenter and Joe Thomason and fullback Henry Moore.

Mitchell expects to get full benefit of the 18 days practice within the allotted 28-day period.

He scheduled the practice several weeks later than usual to miss any late cold snaps.

He said he expects the Razorback squad to eventually total about 100 candidates. Besides the lettermen, it will include 33 players who carried freshmen letters last year, eight held out last year for seasoning or eligibility, four with some squad experience, one transfer and 14 who have no varsity experience.

Lettermen returning include ends Olin Burns, Charlie White, and Ted Souter; tackles George Bequette, Rolfe Luplow, Richard Bennett, Greg Pinkston and Billy Ray Smith; guards Neil Martin, Stuart Perry and Jess Deason; centers Jay Donathan, Jerry Ford and Oren Cupepper; quarterbacks George Walker and Don Christian; halfbacks Ronnie Underwood, Benny Berry, Don Horton and Rogers Overby; and fullback Gerald Nesbitt.

The spring drills will end May 19 with the intrasquad Red-White game.

College class records fell in the two mile relay, where Howard Payne won in 7:41.6, and in the invitational sprint-medley, captured by Missouri Valley in 3:35.

Emporia State got a 4:17.6 anchor mile from its great Billy Tidwell to win the college distance medley at 10:18.4.

Gene O'Connor of Kansas State, a strong Olympic candidate, set a new meet record of 52.2 seconds in the 400 meter hurdles.

Gavilan, Logart in Important Fights

By The Associated Press
Cuba's "kids" from Cataguay, facing 30-year-old ex-welterweight champion Kid Gavilan and Isaac (Kid) Logart, 23-year-old, up-and-coming welterweight contender, are involved in important bouts this week.

Gavilan gets a return track at undefeated young Peter Waterman of England in a 10-rounder in London's Earl's Court Arena tomorrow night. Water was awarded a highly unpopular decision over the veteran Cuban in London Feb. 7.

Logart, No. 3 contender behind Carmen Basilio and Tony DeMarco, faces jolting Joe Miceli, 27-year-old, hard-hitting New York, in a radio-television 10-rounder at Syracuse, N. Y., Friday night.

Free-swinging welterweights are featured on tonight's television 10-rounder at New York's St. Nicholas Arena. Gene Polier, Niagara Falls, N. Y. (15-3-3) and Tex Gonzales, East Orange, N.J. (20-5-1), are the opponents. This should be a lively slugfest as far as it goes.

Du Mont will telecast at 10 p. m., EST.

Johnson Hurls Hope Team to 7-0 Victory

Friday afternoon at Legion Field Wayne Johnson shut the door in the Texarkana Razorback's face, yielding only 5 scattered hits while his teammates were picking up 7 runs on 11 hits.

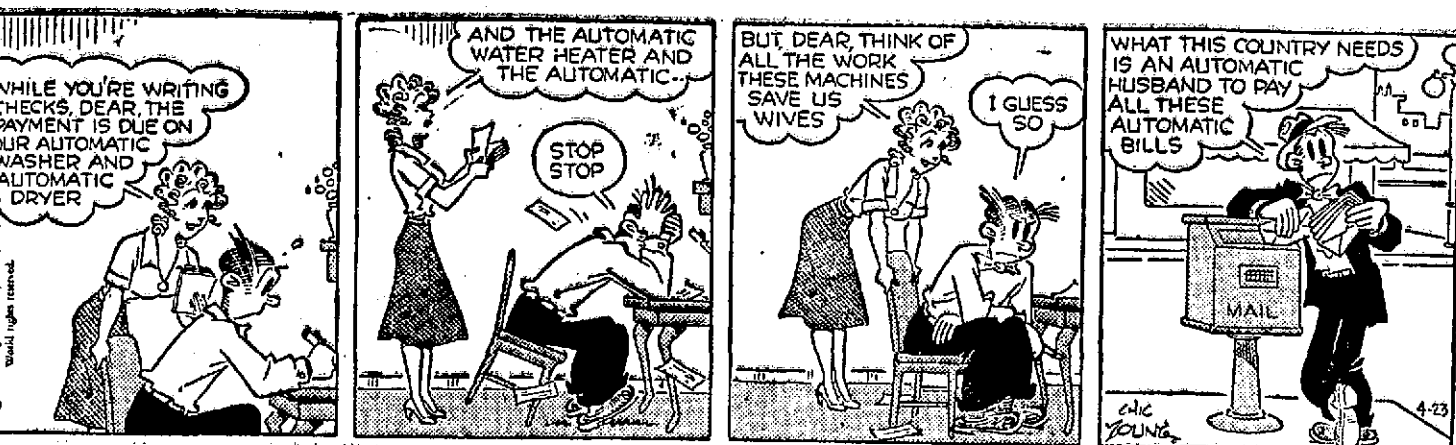

In the second inning, Phil Jones reached first safely on a fielders choice. Larry Cox singled. Jones then, stole second and both scored when James Gilbert drove a liner through shortstop. Texarkana threatened in their half of the third, when Metts walked, Evers singled him to third and took second on a passed ball with only one away. But Harrison tapped back to the mound and Morrison struck out.

In the bottom of the third, Travis Purdie led off with a long double to right center and came home on Johnson's single. John Lingo walked moving Johnson to second and Johnson scored on Ken Jones' single. After Phil Jones fled to deep left, Larry Cox grounded hard to third but was safe when Scotty Williams' throw pulled Alan Morrison off the bag. Lingo scooted home on the throw to first.

In the left field corner scoring Then Dean England drove a liner. Cox, Gilbert followed with a single but England was held up at third on a nice throw by Evers. Purdie fled to deep center to end the inning.

In the bottom of the sixth, Johnson led off with a double and came home on Lingo's single to end the scoring for the day.
